Benefits

Membership brings access to these valuable resources:

ILGL Conference and Special Programs

provide focused and specific CLE professional education opportunities every year; diverse and up-to-the-minute information from leading authorities on the pragmatic practice information you need. The ILGL annual conference covers a variety of timely relevant local government issues, and provides additional annual programming on topics of particular interest, such as municipal prosecution and legal ethics.

Nuts 'n Bolts, the ILGL members' monthly scheduled free-form teleconferences, are generally 60 minutes and held over the lunch hour, for easy access and hassle-free scheduling. Participants confer on issues of mutual concern, share information and solutions to problems in candid "no holds barred" discussions. Participants will receive CLE credit.

The ILGL Journal, published 6 times a year, contains articles and commentary on the most recent issues in local government law.

ILGL Members Listserv provides instantaneous posting of inquiries and responses when you need quick answers and advice.

Municipal Prosecutors Group is an ILGL committee that provides an annual conference aimed at issues specific to municipal prosecutors and has a very active members' listserv focusing primarily on prosecutorial issues. Always vibrant, lively and timely. Many members have participated for years because it is irreplaceably beneficial.
